Grounds Cycle Track.

The Capital City Cycling Club, which is building the new five-lap track out near the State fair grounds, has been having a hard time this week on account of the weather. It was expected to have the track finished in time for the opening meet on the 8th, but the frequent rains of the past week have delayed the work and at a meeting last night it was decided not to open Louisville. Manager Jap Clements will attend the meet and expects to secure a number of crack riders for the opening meeting of the local track. Manager Clements also expects to go East next month and place himself in touch with the Cycle Board of Trade, of New York, which has more to do with the racing men than any

The most important part just now is the bicycle track, which will be completed within the next two weeks, and then Indianapolis wheeling enthusiasts will have two first-class tracks on which they can enjoy the sport.

CREOSOTING BLOCKS.

The New Plant in Operation-50,000 Blocks a Day.

Yesterday the work of creosoting cedar blocks for use in street pavements began at the new plant of the Mica Roofing Company, on the Belt road, west of White river. This is the first plant of this kind ever constructed in the North. It has a capacity in twenty-four hours' work of about 50,000 blocks. There is a large iron cylinder, seventy feet lorg and six feet in diameter. It has a door at one end through which five cars loaded with the blocks are placed inside the cylinder. These cars are made of iron strips, so the creosote can pass entirely through their contents. The blocks are not stacked on the cars, but are thrown in promiscuously, thus giving all sides an equal opportunity for contact with the creosote. The blocks are first subject to a heat of 300 degrees within the large cylinder, and then the creosote is pumped in until there is a high pressure in the tank. This aids to force the creosote into the blocks, which, however, will absorb a large amount on account of their high temperature, while the temperature of the creosote is only 100 degrees. The blocks being turned out under the present contracts are saturated with creosote for only about one inch in depth, but it is expected that when Southern pine blocks are used the process will be changed to that of complete saturation, which is obtained by allowing the blocks to remain in the creosote under very high pressure until they have absorbed about ten pounds of creosote to the cubic foot.

SOME ADVICE TO LOVERS

REV. F. A. MORGAN TALKS TO BETH-ANY YOUNG FOLKS.

Miss Boteler Gives Her Last Talk and Departs-The Services at Acton Yesterday.

Miss Boteler gave the last of her talks to young people at Acton yesterday morning. Her subject was "Myself." She has pleased the assembly so well that at the close of her address a vote of thanks was passed for her work, and she was asked to early train they all came forward and bade her good-bye.

At 10 o'clock Prof. G. P. Coler, of Ann Arbor, talked on the subject of "Bible Chairs." He paid a tribute to the C. W. B. M. organization and suggested the establishment of a training school in connection with the department. He gave a description of the Bible work done at Ann Arbor and then gave several reasons why Bible chairs should be placed in universipart toward furnishing biblical training in the State universities. It is a duty we owe to our students. Then there is the influence we exert on other students; it enables us to train specialists for teachers of the Bible. It is one of the most effective ways to do missionary work, and it helps the pastor and the church; lastly, being secure the respective consideration of educated men and women and of the friends

At 11 o'clock Rev. F. A. Morgan, of Terre is as follows: Haute, delivered a humorous lecture on the subject of "The Evolution of a Lover." By way of introduction he said he was glad so many were present. It looked like an indication of interest, and yet he knew that and those who were married. He described | at the assembly. "Love begins to evolve early because of the love of the mother, then of the sister, and | visit at the park Friday night. Mrs. W at last the love goes out for some other fellow's sister. I once knew of a very sweet young lady who said she was going to marry either a President, or Senator, or Governor, or college professor; time went on and she got neither of these, nor did she get a lawyer, broker or clerk, nor a street celaner, an organ grinder or a hod carrier. Finally, in a fit of desperation, a long time until morning. However, to not propose to two girls at the same time; there would be a double disappointment. You would have to throw yourself in the river twice, and that would make added anger of losing your life. As to the place, think Bethany is all right. "The question is often asked, at what age to marry. There are some people I would never advise to marry young; they might have done so fifteen or twenty years ago, Democratic day. ACTON TO CHANGE ITS NAME.

The Indiana Assembly" Proposed-Burglars at the Camp. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. left the Acton grounds early yesterday morning, and after them came the theme of many of their songs, "the pure clear water," and it ame with a vengeance. No services were held during the day, although President Martin, of Moore's Hill College, and President Gobin, of DePauw, were to speak. No audience would venture out in such weather. Two spelis of sultry heat sandwiched between two downpours of rain was about all that marked the day. A number of cottagers have been missing articles of value recently, and two days ago Mrs. Gadd, of Indianapolis, missed a watch. A detective was obtained and night before last three strangers were arrested on the train. They had a number of miss, ing umbrellas in their possession. Acton camp will probably change its name to the Indiana Assembly in the near present name, and it will take one more characteristic of an assembly as a result of There are now several streets with concrete foundations laid, the finishing of which has been delayed by the lack of the blocks. HORSE ON THE SIDEWALK Created Great Commotion Among the Staid Old Family Nags.

Great excitement prevailed on Market street between Delaware and Pennsylvania streets yesterday morning when Dr. George's horse broke loose from his moorings at the corner and went dashing down the sidewalk toward the postoffice. Dr. George is the owner of a fine young horse. His office is in the Baldwin Block and the Doctor hitched the horse as usual yesterday morning to the big telephone pole at the corner of Delaware and Market fell over upon the horse hitched to the pole. In a moment the horse had broken the strap tied about his neck and was dashing west on the south sidewalk of Market street. There were many people poor white people of the South; giving as- on the street at the time. They piled unceremoniously down into the basements of the buildings facing on Market street and gave the horse the right of way. The horse felt himself out of place on sidewalk dragging a bugggy and sought for an opening among the vehicles hitched at the curb, but there was none. Hiram Plummer's horse saw the frightened animal coming at a breakneck speed and evidently felt that the neighborhood was unsafe for an old reliable family horse. He trotted out into the middle of the street and, at a safe distance, viewed the runaway. The Doctor's horse took advantage of the opening made and ran into the street, turning north in the alley between Pennsylvania and Delaware streets. The buggy collided with two or three vehicles and was badly wrecked. No person, nor the horse, was hurt.

THE FALL CREEK SYSTEM.

Commissioner Claypool Urges the Completion of It. The Park Commissioners are being besieged by property owners and residents in all parts of the city to purchase small tracts of land for park purposes. People in the northeast part of the city want the commissioners to buy about twenty-three acres of land along Pogue's run, which belongs to M. H. Spades. In the southeast part there is a clamor for the purchase of several acres lying north of Pleasant run and west of Shelby and for the building of a boulevard along Pleasant run, from Snelby street to Garneld Park. In a letter just received E. F. Claypool, who is in the East, expresses to the board his opposition to the plan of buying small tracts of land scattered throughout the city. He urges the completion of the Fall creek system of parks as now contemplated by the board.

Held on Suspicion.

Last night a man called at the police station and complained that two young men were following an old woman about the market for the purpose of robbing her, he supposed. Detectives Kinney and Richards went over and arrested Charles Parrott, of 370 East Vermont street, and David Brandt, of 80 North New Jersey street. They were slated for lottering.

TO HAVE A CURFEW RING

CITIZENS OF WEST INDIANAPOLIS AGITATING THE SUBJECT.

Streets-No New School Building at Brightwood.

Some of the good citizens of West Indianapolis are agitating the passage of a curfew law by the Council of that suburb mer Epworth training school and the for the purpose of keeping children under fifteen years of age off the streets after 8 of tender years can be seen playing in the streets or promenading on the sidewalks of the suburb at a very late hour every night. and the vocal ability of some of the younger ones is very annoying to the people residing in their immediate vicinity at such times as they give vocal exhibitions. The suburb's policemen also favor the curfew law, as they would then be enabled to make the hardened young ruffians who now loaf on the street corners either go home or to the station house.

The Big Four Picnic.

The picnic that was to have been given on Aug. 5 by the employes of the Big Four shops at Brightwood and Dillon street, has been postponed until Aug. 16. Owing to the great number of excursions now being run by the Big Four Railroad Company, it was unable to let the employes have sufficient coaches for the transportation of the picnickers on the date first fixed, and this has caused the postponement. picnic is to be held in Westside Park, Muncle, where there is a nice grove supplied with a dancing floor and race track and where boating can be indulged in. The committees have secured donations from the merchants of this city and of the suburb for the prizes to be given in the various contests, and no pains have been spared to make the picnic a success.

No New School at Brightwood. Some of the citizens of Brightwood are talking up the building of a new school building, as they say that the present building, besides being old, will not accommodate the number of children who will attend school in that suburb during the com-School Board, says that they will not put up a new building nor make any improvements this year, for there is not enough money in the treasury for that purpose. The board contemplates making improvements on the building next "ear, at which time they hope to be able to add an additional term on the high school course.

Not Paid by the Meeting.

The Brightwood citizens who are at present criticising the Town Board for meeting every week, when the city councils of Indianapolis and West Indianapolis and the town boards of the other suburbs only meet twice a month, on the plea that these numerous meetings cost the town at the rate of $1 for every meeting, are wrong in their presumptions. When the present board was organized the one-dollar rate a meeting that the members of the old board received was done away with and the salary of a trustee was fixed at $50 a year, regard-less of the number of meetings held or attended by a trustee.

Dearborn County Reunion. There will be a reunion of old Dearborn county residents who now live in this vicinity, at the home of John Roach, just this side of Irvington, on Sunday, Aug. 16. The Dearborn county people who live in this section have organized and meet annually to spend a social day together and talk over the old days spent in Dearborn county. At the last reunion about 225 of the old Dearborn county people were present, and this year they think that their number will be increased to about 300.

Little Girl Run Down.

At 9 o'clock last night the police station was notified that a man had struck a litgirl while riding on the sidewalk near the corner of tucky avenue and West street. Patrolman Streit was dispatched upon his wheel and found a crowd of two hundred which was Otto Leppert, of West Indianapolis, a young man employed by August Schmidt, the tailor. Leppert ran into the little daughter of Carl and Anna Mayland, of 358 Coburn street. The parents and the girl were walking on the sidewalk when the wheelman approached. The little girl was struck as she met the wheel and knocked down. She was not badly hurt. Col. James W. Gray Dead. Col. James W. Gray, of 258 North Pennsylvania street, died at his home last night at 9:10 o'clock, from exhaustion after nine months illness. Mr. Gray has lived in this a lot of stolen property, for the theft of city since before the war and was for many

NO JUDGESHIP FOR BYNUM

His Law Partner Says He Would Not Accept.

W. D. Bynum did not return from Chicago yesterday, as another meeting of the sound-money executive committee was called. He will probably return home today. His law partner, William V. Rooker, declares that Mr. Bynum would not accept the Oklahoma judgeship. "While I am not authorized to speak for Mr. Bynum," said Mr. Rooker, "I know he would not accept such an appointment, as the term of office will expire next March. I doubt whether he would take an appointment here at home."

It will devolve upon the na tional committee to determine that ques-tion-in fact, that is one of the main things to be considered at its meeting next week The report will not retard the efforts that are being made to have Indianapolis selected. It is asserted that no one now le Chicago has the necessary authority to select the meeting place.

PUSH" CARRIES THE DAY

NAMES "JOHNNIE" ROCHEFORD AS THE COUNTY CHAIRMAN.

W. W. Spencer, Selected by the Democratic County Candidates, Turned Down by a Big Majority.

If the candidates on the county or State ticket fondly imagine that they can control the "push" they will learn after a while that the "push" does as it pleases and asks advice of no one. It is determined that the original "gold bugs," even though they claim to be now in line, shall have nothing whatever to do with running the campaign in this county, and when the "push" determines anything in regard to things Demoing term. Mr. Bush, the president of the cratic nowadays it is as good as done. The candidates and ex-leaders will have to swallow "Johnnie" Rocheford as county chairman and an executive committee of his own creation, whether they like it or

> It will be remembered that when the new county committee met two weeks ago to elect a county chairman Judge Brown, Jcseph Fanning and other candidates persuaded the members to postpone action a few weeks to give the candidates a chance o determine upon a man. They talked among themselves three or four times without accomplishing anything, and in the meantime Rocheford, who wanted to be chairman whether the candidates wanted him to be or not, was out hustling for votes and getting them, too. Finally the candidates agreed upon W. W. Spencer, excounty attorney, the gentleman with the strawberry beard, who won fame in 1893 by handling the tally sheets at the city convention in such a mysterious way that all the candidates said to have been nominated for councilman at large had to resign in order that the cry of fraud might be drowned out. Having come to this conclusion, the candidates sent "Tom" Hedian and one or two other great men up to the meeting of the county committee at the Gray Club last night and supposed that everything was fixed. But it wasn't. The boys from the precincts were noisy and turbulent and determined not to be bossed. The result sent Hedian and a few of his friends out of the meeting, boiling over with wrath and declaring that the Marion county campaign was lost before it was be-

The rooms were crowded and the swelter-ing atmosphere was fetid with the ming-ling of odoriferous breaths of varying degrees of pungency. The crowd was turbulent to the point of riotousness from the start, and Leon Bailey, who presided, wore out his voice and his cane in the effort to preserve order. As soon as the roll was called and the addresses of the new committeemen obtained, nominations for chairman were called for, and the names of John J. Rocheford, W. W. Spencer, C. W. Bridges and Louis Haag were presented. Bridges was not in it, of course, and got but six votes. Mr. Haag did not any. Spencer, the candidate county and State candidates, not fare much better and got but 45 out of the 183 votes cast. When the roll call was but little more than half finished It was apparent that Rocheford had it and his noisy following nearly precipitated a riot by insisting that he be elected by acclamation. It was then that Hedian and his friends could stand it no longer and left in disgust. The "push" guyed him un-mercifully as he left and called upon him for a speech, but he did not respond, "And what do you think?" he asked afterward 'Seventeen of them --aske me for a dime as I came out!"

As soon as the vote was announced, Mahoney slipped in a motion that the new chairman be permitted to name his own and executive committee Michael Cain did not like this, and, after tremendous efforts to make himself heard in the riot, offered an amendment that the member of the executive committee from elected by the committee- of Hall-place M. They have had a good time and prospered in their leadership of the Marion county Democracy, but their day is over. Their dream of holding onto the Marion county organization by getting into line for a principle they abbor has proven a dismal failure and they must give way to men heretofore practically unknown in the councils of the party. A NEW POOR FARM SITE

County Commissioners Will Consider

The County Commissioners are considering the advisability of selling the poor farm county more remote from the city. The present farm contains 220 acres, and the with the Indianapolis Light and Power | commissioners think it could be sold for $60,000, which would be enough to buy 500 acres of equally as good land on the border of the county. The idea is to locate the farm further from Indianapolis, so as to do away with the temptation of the inmates to run away from the place and come to this city. While nothing has been settled in regard to this plan, the commissioners will not take any positive steps toward rebuilding the burned portion of the old building until this matter is fully investigated and its feasibility determined. present farm is located a long distance from a railroad, and the cost of hauling tion was given them at the home of the fuel and supplies is large, while the new bride's parents Tuesday evening, and at the farm would be located close enough to a railroad to run a switch into it.

Gladness Comes With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts— rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs. promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

"Red" Olin Knocked Down a Man

Who Used Vile Language. J. A. Griffin, 175 Clinton street, came to grief last night at the Tuxedo saloon. Griffin went into the saloon, where there were several men, and began to sing and in other ways to give vent to his feelings. This annoyed the men who were standing there, and they asked him to stop, but he refused and was ordered out of the place. As he left the saloon he showered vile names upon those who had objected to his song, and especially upon Harry Olin, better known as "Red" Olin, of football fame. Olin folowed him from the place and upon the outide struck him, knocking him down. When Griffin got up the blood was streaming from his head, where he claimed Olin had hit him with a pair of knucks, but those who saw the difficulty say that Olin had nothing in his hand when he struck Griffin and that the cut in his head must have been made when falling. Griffin went to the City Dis-pensary, where his head was sewed up. The police are looking for Olin.

THIRD-STREET ROBBERY

The Houses at Nos. 71 and 73 Entered Yesterday.

Report came to the police last night that the house of F. L. Thomas, 73 West Third street, had been entered and burglarized. Detective Kinney was detailed to investigate the case. He learned that a gentleman's gold watch had been taken. The burglary had taken place in the afternoon while all the family was away from home. The robber had taken a slat off a shutter in the rear of the house and had entered through the window. It was evident that whoever entered the place was looking only for money, as they had lifted some sliverware and a gold bracelet from a drawer, but had not taken the stuff. The house entered is double and both sides were ed. No. 71 is occupied by Charles L. Hanford, a traveling man for Kipp Bros., and as no one was at home it could not be learned what was taken, but that the place had been ransacked was apparent by the way things were scattered around and the empty condition of the drawers.
